Play is a form of learning. It is started and led by your child. Play is simple, creative, unplanned, rewarding and doesn't have a specific goal. Play should be a part of every child's life. Encourage your preschool child to help or comfort a friend. When your child discovers how good it feels to share, help or please others, he will feel a sense of self-worth, accomplishment and pride
(see more in "Why play? With your Preschooler" brochure)

DAILY SPECIAL ACTIVITIES

Baby Picasso: An all day drop in session where infants and caregivers explore different art and sensory materials.
Toddler Art Activities: Art is a fantastic way for children to use their imagination and use many different materials in ways we might not think of ourselves. This program is geared for parents and caregivers with children 2-4 years of age.
Toddler Tales & Tunes : Let's read together and Dance some songs!
STEM Activities: Age appropriate science, technology, engineering or math activities.
Kids in the Kitchen: A great way for children to learn new words through cooking. Participants will have fun making simple snack with their children.
